

DR. LEAH BRAHMS

Human

Female

Daystrom Institutue

Biography

Though not a member of Starfleet, Dr. Leah Brahms has had such a distinguished career that she is well-known to nearly every Starfleet engineer. Brahms started her career as a research assistant at the Daystrom Institute but quickly advanced to leading advanced projects on warp propulsion and subspace field dynamics. Among her many projects were the improved subspace field generators that were part of the latest Galaxy-class designs including the U.S.S. Enterprise-D.

Though she tends to stay in the lab and design workshop, Brahms is always interested in seeing how her designs fare in the field. She visited the Enterprise multiple times and, after a rocky start, formed a lasting friendship with Chief Engineer Geordi LaForge. In 2371 she is the director of the Zefram Cochrane Institute for Advanced Theoretical Physics which actively seeks out promising researchers and engineers to advance the capabilities of Federation technology.

Image © Paramount Pictures

Major NPC

TRAIT: Human

Stress: 9 Resistance: 0

VALUES:

- More Comfortable with Engine Schematics Than People
- I'm Not Used to Having People Question My Judgement

ATTACKS:

- Unarmed Strike (Melee, 2♣ Knockdown, 1H, Non-lethal)

ATTRIBUTES

Control	10	Daring	9
Fitness	8	Insight	12
Presence	9	Reason	12

SPECIAL ABILITIES

- Technical Expertise (Talent, p. 136)
- I Know My Ship (Talent, p. 137)
- In the Nick of Time (Talent, p. 137)
- Working Theory: Whenever Dr. Brahms assists another character by providing a scientific or technical theory, the character she is assisting may re-roll one d20.

DISCIPLINES

Command	02	Conn	03
Security	01	Engineering	04
Science	04	Medicine	01

FOCUSES:

- Starship Design
- Warp Theory
- Computer Systems
- Engineering Projects