

U.S.S. EAGLE (NCC-956)

The U.S.S. Eagle (NCC-956) is a Constitution-class starship, subclass Bonhomme Richard. It is also known as the U.S.S. Atlirith by the Andorians. It was built in 2247 and modified on Andoria to fit the needs of the Andorian crew, including an 'arena' for training. Andorian military technology enhanced the targeting systems, the phasers, and shields. Compared to the standard Constitution-class, it had an extra rear-facing torpedo launcher. The Eagle had an illustrious career, defending against many Klingon incursions.
