

COMMANDER DENISE "JETT" RENO

Human

Female

Starfleet

Biography

Commander Denise "Jett" Reno was an engineer on the U.S.S. Hiawatha. The medical frigate crash-landed on an asteroid, caught in massively fluctuating gravitational waves. Reno helped evacuate most of the crew, and managed to keep patients in critical condition alive for ten months and eleven days. She used her engineering knowledge to figure out alien biologies, along with scattered Starfleet tech. She is sardonic, sarcastic and deadpan, managing to keep calm even after months of isolation. She was also able to jury-rig drones and medical equipment from broken materials.
