

CALDONIAN

THE NEXT GENERATION ERA ONLY

Caldonians are native to Caldonia, somewhere in the Alpha or Beta Quadrant. They are a tall species with prominent heads and three-fingered hands. The coloration of their skin is normally dark brown. They are utterly devoted to research, but dislike anything that distracts them from doing that research, such as administration duties and recreation. For example, they were interested in the Barzan wormhole until they were reminded that the administration of traffic through the wormhole would be a gargantuan task.

EXAMPLE VALUE: Research Is More Important Than Bureaucracy.

- ATTRIBUTES: +1 Fitness, +1 Insight, +1 Reason
- TRAIT: Caldonian. Caldonians are tall, have a large cranium, and three-fingered hands.
- TALENTS: The character receives access to the following talents:

UTTER FOCUS ON RESEARCH

REQUIREMENT: Caldonian, or Gamemaster's permission.

You are among the best examples of your species' dedication to research. Once per mission, when you are performing a research Task (normal or Extended) or is a Research Lead in a team applying the Scientific Method (page 157 of the Core Rulebook), you may choose to double your Focus range for one Task (that is, rolling equal to or less than twice your Discipline score will give you two successes).

A CALDONIAN MIND

REQUIREMENT: Caldonian, or Gamemaster's permission.

Whenever you attempt a Reason Task that does not involve paperwork, administrative duties, or governmental red tape, add a bonus d20 to your dice pool. However, whenever you are perform an Insight, Reason, or Command Task where paperwork, administrative duties, or governmental red tape is involved, add 1 Threat to the Threat pool before you roll.

