

LISSEPIAN

THE NEXT GENERATION ERA ONLY

The Lissepian are a species originating from the planet Lissepia. They are expert merchants, famous for always paying their bills. However, some of them are also unscrupulous, willing to transport anything for a price. There are also skilled artisans among them, carving Hupyrian beetle snuff boxes from snailosaurus bone. Their entire planet celebrates Mother's Day. The Central Bank of Lissepia is a famous institution, and notorious for the Mother's Day Heist that occurred there in 2365. They are also famous for the Lissepian Lottery.

EXAMPLE VALUE: Anything For A Profit.

- ATTRIBUTES: +1 Control, +1 Insight, +1 Presence
- TRAIT: Lissepian. The Lissepian have protrusions from their chins. They are hairless. They have a large lobe to the back of their heads.
- TALENTS: The character receives access to the following talents:

I ALWAYS PAY MY BILLS

REQUIREMENT: Lissepian.

People trust you to pay your bills and honor your contracts. When you attempt a Social Conflict that involves convincing someone that you will pay them later, you may reroll your dice pool. Also during the debt period to this person, your Complication Range increases by 1, which persists until you have paid off the promised debt, or are otherwise released from the obligation. You may only owe three such debts at the same time.

BUSINESS WITH ANYONE

REQUIREMENT: Lissepian.

The Lissepian are known to be willing to deal with anyone, even with illegal or immoral business dealings, as long as the price is right. That gives the Lissepian contacts in the most unusual quarters. Once per mission, the Lissepian may create an Advantage at no cost, representing a prior business connection, shady or legitimate.

