

DRAGON'S EGG

This is Nakotti's shuttle, which he found in the Space Beyond. It's full of secrets that only he knows. It seems partially organic, and many devices are hidden in its techno-organic matrix, shielding the smuggled objects from scans.

ATTACKS

- Techno-Organic Torpedoes (Torpedo, Range Long, 3▲ Persistent)

TALENTS

Techno-Organic Hull: The hull is semi-flexible due to its techno-organic nature. It takes 7 damage to inflict a Breach.

Techno-Organic Smuggler's Hold: The shuttle's matrix may hide things within them (increase Difficulty to detect by 3). In addition, twice per mission, you may create an Advantage that represents secret cargo by increasing your Complication Range by 1 for the rest of the mission (this is cumulative). This may be in the form of outlawed technology, purloined goods, and the like. Each Advantage lasts throughout the mission until the cargo is lost, destroyed, or consumed in some gambit. The Complication Range increases do not go away until the end of the mission.
