

'MISTRAL' CLASS SHUTTLECRAFT

The original 'Mistral' shuttlecraft prototype was created by U.S.S. Sojourner's Cmdr. Thomas Kazan and Cmdr. Edon Li, for a high-stakes racing competition against the Wairara that required a land/sea secondary vehicle. After further development, the Mistral-class shuttlecraft was put into service in 2376. It has three interchangeable modules (hovercraft, cargo, computer core). It is also equipped with an EMH. The original Mistral prototype has been reassigned to Captain Kazan's new starship, the U.S.S. Endeavour (Luna-class).
