

DEFERI

THE NEXT GENERATION ERA ONLY

Hailing from the Alpha Quadrant planet of Defera, the Deferi homeworld is located between the Cardassian Union and Breen Confederacy. Because of their world's rich archaeological sites, they have been targeted by the Breen several times during their history. These ancient ruins belong to long forgotten empire with fantastical technology. Deferi philosophy is based upon maintaining a universal balance, as inequality is said to lead to hatred and misunderstanding. Before taking action, possible impact on balance has to be evaluated. The Deferi governing body practices a complex system of direct diplomacy, where the populace is consulted on major decisions and polls are used to elect officials or remove them from office. Because of their philosophy, the Deferi strive to remain neutral in galactic politics, but have diplomatic ties with the Federation and Klingon Empire. While the Deferi possessed warp technology for years, they preferred to remain on Defera rather than risking imbalancing the region. Overpopulation eventually forced the Deferi to expand beyond their homeworld, which attracted the attention of several dangerous species.
