

REPTILIAN

THE ORIGINAL SERIES OR THE NEXT GENERATION ERAS ONLY

Official version found in the Beta Quadrant Sourcebook

The Xindi are an union of five divergent but genetically related species who all evolved on the same planet, Xindus. The five species are the Aboreals, Primates, Reptilians, Insectoids, and Aquatics. A sixth species, the Avians, used to exist but were all slain. In the 2030s their planet was destroyed by a civil war, the result of a Reptilian and Insectoid plot, forcing the entire species to relocate. In the early 2150s, beings from another dimension deceived the Xindi into attacking Earth, which was repelled by a military alliance between Earth and Andoria. This incident helped establish the United Earth as a major interstellar power.

Once hailing from the deserts of their homeworld, the cold-blooded Xindi-Reptilians prefer to be firmly on the ground and disliked heights. Among the other Xindi, Reptilians were seen as untrustworthy and impatient; they were not seen as inherently duplicitous, but instead seen as less bound to their word and prone to sudden action without forethought. Aggressive, short tempered, and easily provoked, the Reptilians were highly opinionated and extremely reluctant to change their mind once it was made. Despite their antisocial tendencies, their stubborn nature makes Xindi-Reptilians surprisingly loyal, and they seldom question the orders from respected authority figures. Reptilians had strong militaristic tendencies, and equated rank with social standing.
