Concept

A four-person Starfleet away team (Asian or Latina Human female, Osnullus, Saurian, African older male) in Discovery-era EVA suits [figure 3] stand in action poses (ex. shocked by the amazing object) inside the meeting location pictured on pages 2 and 3, the Cancri meeting chamber. Three stoic, Cancri elders (the guys with white heads) are present as one of the away team members hold up the Tachyon-Infused Icosahedron [figure 1] in their hand. It is brimming with green and blue particle energy. The Icosahedron a palm-sized, metal object, a polyhedron with 20 faces (think big, 20-sided die). It has various nonconforming shapes etched into each visible side (misshaped circles, strange triangles, wiggly infinity symbol, more squiggly undefinable shapes, etc). The focal point should be the Icosahedron as the away team stands in awe of its power. [figure 2]

Notes: First picture (will not be shown in art; merely hear for shape of structure) is exterior shot and pictures 2-4 are interior stage area as scene in the episode “Lethe”.

Cancri IV — Neutral meeting location where General Kol assassinated the Cancri elders.

BACKGROUND: Cancri elders standing on a platform behind Klingons (DIS: "Lethe") In 2256, the Cancri were politically neutral between the United Federation of Planets and the Klingon Empire. Thus, they agreed to host a secret meeting between Vulcan and two independent Klingon Great Houses to discuss the possibility of an alliance. However, the meeting was a trap set by General Kol, and the Klingon party slaughtered the Cancri elders present.
